Youth for Truth expectations You must read and sign this form

We want to make sure you understand what is expected from you while at camp this week. Please read each statement and sign your name on the line.

At vision camp you are expected to treat everyone equally with respect and kindness. This means no clicks, gossiping, fighting, making fun of, practical joking or excluding others.

_____

At Vision camp you are expected to refrain from bad and vulgar language. You cannot bring any weapons, drugs, alcoholic beverages, tobacco, pornography or anything that would separate you from God. _____

At Vision camp you cannot bring any electronic device. No cell phones, music, games, blow dryers or irons. This week is set aside to get away from our normal comforts and life styles. Your cabin leader will have a cell phone for you to make any emergency calls to your parents if necessary.

At vision camp you are expected to dress in a way that will not distract from God. That means cover your boobs and butts! Bring long shorts or capris (no short shorts). For swimming girls must wear one piece, tankinis or a colored tank top while in the pool area. No exclusive relationships. Whether two girl friends form a click or a guy and girl exclude themselves, we expect everyone to be treated the same. _____

At Vision camp you are expected to respect all authority. If a staff member asks you to do something, you are expected to listen to them (unless what they have asked you to do is immoral). This includes Youth for Truth & Youth for Christ staff and cabin and team leaders. If you think you have been asked to do something unfairly, then do what you are asked to and after come to see Dan or Becky and they will work out the problem. _____

At Vision camp you are expected to stay on the schedule that we have created. That means you must wake up when we say and go to sleep when we say. Also you must be on time for all activities and meetings. _____
